Tips for Preparing a Nomination

1. Make sure the nomination directly addresses all the award criteria.
2. If possible, include written references from clients or colleagues of the nominee outlining how the nominee has satisfied the award criteria.
3. Make sure that the nomination is personal and refers to the nominee's achievements rather than the organisation's achievements. Make it clear to the judges how the nominee contributed to the achievements.
4. Proofread your nomination at least twice and better still have a colleague proofread it also. There is nothing more distracting than typos and spelling mistakes.
5. Start your nomination as soon as you can. You may save the nomination and amend it as many times as you wish right up until the closing date.
6. Aim to submit your nomination well in advance of the closing date to avoid unexpected delays.
